

NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

ANTI-RENT DECISIONS.—The last Albion Freeholder concluded that the anti-rent movement has been decided, and law, reason and justice have triumphed over fraud and injustice. The Van Renkewicks are fairly and forever beaten. Some six years ago Stephen Van Renkewick sued J. J. Jewett, of the South-Western, for rent. Mr. Jewett was tried at Albany, and the case went to the Court of Appeals at Boston. This alarmed Mr. Van Renkewick, and he determined to litigation Mr. Jewett to a settlement of his rent. Accordingly he sent Big Bill Snyder with a writ of attachment who served it on him. Mr. Jewett soon after in friendly conversation with B. E. Snyder, who had been sent to serve the process, said to him: "He who served me the writ of attachment on him? He reported that it was a frightful headache to a settlement, thereby avoiding the full length of the law. Accordingly he had carried up the suit for ejectment from court to court, until it was finally argued in the Court of Appeals at Boston. The decision was given in favor of Mr. Van Renkewick. He now has a rent hearing which has been denied. So the question is forever decided, and has become a settled principle of law. Henceforth, write of ejectment will be as harmless as so much white paper.

THE LATE STEAMSHIP DISASTER.—The Pittsburgh papers furnish a complete list of the killed, wounded and missing among the passengers on board the steamship Virginia, which exploded near Steinerville a few days since:

Killed.—Messrs. Wm. Howe, R. W. Bellinger, J. E. Morrison, G. C. Moore, Mr. S. H. Karp, Mr. Edward C. Morris, Captain; Mr. H. H. Hester, Mr. Samuel Nolce, freshman, Steiner; Mr. Andrew Snyder, both boys left off, died in about thirty hours.

Injured.—Miss Mary, Mrs. F. A. Washington, Miss Rose, Jr., slightly hurt; R. Bowles and lady, lady slightly wounded; Mr. Leifer, Mr. Clegg, Mr. S. H. Karp, Mr. Edward C. Morris, Captain; Mr. H. H. Hester, Mr. Samuel Nolce, freshman, Steiner; Mr. Andrew Snyder, both boys left off, died in about thirty hours.

Wounded.—Capt. Dawson, slightly wounded; Miss Dawson, badly wounded; Mr. Kennedy, Clerk, badly wounded; Mr. Taylor, Engineer, badly wounded; Mr. Morris, Master, moderately wounded, lame; to Wheeling; Mr. Morris, leg broken in two places; Mrs. Corn of wheeling, slightly wounded; Miss Morris, of Albion, head slightly cut; Miss Conley, of Albion; Dr. Nugent and Dr. Nease, moderately wounded.

EXPLORATION AND LOSS OF LIFE.—The towboat Dennis, with Montgomery's patent boilers, exploded on the 25th last, blowing off the tops of both boilers—Mr. McFarland, the chief engineer, received a concussion, and died of his injuries. Two of the hands were severely overboard and drowned.

James Brady, the steersman, was at the wheel when the accident occurred, and was blown up with the boiler deck, receiving a slight injury. The captain, Mr. McFarland, the master of the vessel, the misfortune of loss allowed in due to losing his life by explosion. The Dennis became a new boat on her first trip down with three ships in tow. She had proceeded just below Wilder's Bay, where the fog was so thick that she had to come to anchor. The fog finally cleared off, when the boat got under way again, and after making a few revolutions, exploded. [R. O. Delta, 27th.]

ICE AT MACKINAW.—At the last advice the ice in the Straits was solid as in mid winter, and no water was visible at Mackinaw—the Indians had been on the ice from Mackinaw to Huron, and Lake Michigan, and were still in the hardiest winter.

In Lake Superior the water was visible from the summit of "Gros Cap," which is about 700 feet high.

NORTH CAROLINA GOLD.—The Editor of the Wilmington Journal states that the miners here have six pieces of Carolina gold, weighing together over four pounds. The largest piece was fully twenty-four ounces of gold, and the smallest twelve ounces. These pieces were found on the surface of Richmond county, North Carolina, all within less than half a mile of each other, and within a mile of the Pee Dee river.

WONDERFUL CHANGES.—In Washington, after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FIRE.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech at Elizabethtown on Saturday on the subject of repealing the State Constitution. In it he declared that the people of all the State offices, including state and local, are to be appointed by the election of the people.

THE MORNING (Mid-June).—The Standard Whig says in its editorial on the presidential election there were 500,000 Free-Soilists in Washington; after the result was ascertained, the number was diminished down to a hundred, and soon it will be a difficult task to find enough for a quorum of the Jackson Democratic Association.

FRIDAY.—John Morrison's house in Brooklyn, Franklin Co., Ohio, burned up March 17. Several members of the family were badly burned, and one child destroyed... The Presbyterian church and the adjoining academy at Quincy, Ill., were set on fire March 23, by a negro slave by way of revenge on his master, and destroyed.

MR. MEREDITH.—The Washington H. C. Register states that the Secretary of the Treasury receives company with the most cordiality. His office is enabled to dispatch a much larger amount of business, which requires his personal attention, than usual. The grant of private audiences consumes too much time.

MR. HORN.—Hon. Ben. Hardin made a speech